Our eloquent friend from Abbeville was prevented from meeting the Anderson De-mocracy on Saturday last by reason of a death in his family—one of his nephews. He went up to Walhalla on Monday, however, and will strike telling and effective blows for Tilden and Hampton wherever he is zealons services in this campaign deserve recognition, and the people intend to make him Solicitor of the Eighth Circuit beyond a doubt.

GEN. JAMES CORNER.

This gentleman was unable to attend the mass meeting on Saturday last, owing to important public duties demanding his pres him to reach Anderson, and participate in the glorious demonstration at the opening of the campaign. Gen. Conner is greatly beloved in this community, and his numer ous friends were disappointed at his non appearance. He joined the canvassers at Walhalla, and will make the welkin ring with his masterly eloquence throughout the campaign. He is the next Attorney-General of South Carolina.

MORE INTIMIDATION.

We learn that there is a determined effort being made in the Rock Mills township to intimidate colored Democrats. This must be stopped, and if our colored people do not cease interferring with others who choose to be Democrats, they may expect trouble in this County. They shall not intimidate our colored Democrats. We would advise our citizens to arrest, upon a peace warrant, any man who threatens or abuses a colored Democrat, or makes threats against our white people. If they are arrested upon a peace warrant they will have to give security for good behavior, and we imagine that no Democrat in this County will go secucolored man who wishes to exercise his right to yote a Democratic ticket. We have promised to protect all Democratic colored men, and must do so at any cost.

A CORRECTION.

The Columbia Register in its account of the Belton meeting made the following mis-

Colonel W. D. Simpson, the Democratic nominee for Lieutenant Governor, led off in a speech worthy of himself and the occasion. He discussed the issues of the time with equal skill and eloquence, making a decidedly favorable impression for resolute and determined action in overthrowing the party of oppression and corruption in the State. Colonel Simpson has the voice, manner, brain, learning and other gifts, natural and acquired, which give him easy sway over any audience that he addresses. Colonel W. D. Simpson, the Der

It was R. W. Simpson, Esq., a candidate for the House of Representatives from this County, and not the nominee for Lieutenant Governor, who made this speech. The Register's remarks about the speech are all right, but it ascribed it to the wrong man.

THE MASS MEETING AT HONEA PATH.

The next grand demonstration of the Anderson Democracy will take place at Honea Path on the 20th of September, and our friends in that vicinity are making extensive preparations for the meeting. The citizens of Anderson, Abbeville, Greenville and Laurens are expected to unite on this occasion, and the attendance will likely prove nearly equal to the mammoth demonstration at this place. Among the gentlemen who were invited to address the meeting we are informed that Gen. Hampton, Hon. W. D. Simpson, Gen. McGowan, Gen. M. C. Butler, Col. D. Wyatt Aiken, James S Cothran, James L. Orr and J. A. Hoyt have signified their willingness and intention to be present. A rousing time may confidently be expected, and we are authorized to state that, if one day is not sufficient to get through the work, the Honea Path Demo-· crats are willing to protract the meeting.

GEN. JOHN B. GORDON The able and eloquent Senator from Geor gia was prevented from attending the ratification meeting in Anderson on Saturday last, in consequence of being prostrated by a severe attack of sickness on his return from Washington, which unfitted him for labor during the past week or ten days. He expresses his intention, however, of taking part in the campaign in South Carolina, in which his heart is deeply enlisted. No man from outside the limits of our State will receive a more cordial and enthusiastic welcome from our people, and there is no one in whose judgment we would sooner confide upon the issues and topics now before the country. Wherever Gen. Gordon may appear before an audience in South Carolina. there awaits him a generous and whole souled welcome, not only for his gallant services on the field of battle, but for his triumphs in the arena of debate on the floor of the United States Senate.

We regret to learn that Mr. W. T. Mc-Elroy was severely injured by getting thrown from his horse on his way home on last Saturday afternoon. He was riding back with the Sandy Springs Rifle Club, of which he was orderly sergeant. His young horse became frightened and ran—the bridle rein broke, and afterwards the saddle girth, which precipitated him to the ground. He was badly bruised by the fall, and his left collar bone broken. Dr. P. A. Wilhite was called in, and rendered medical aid to Mr. McElroy, whose wounds are not dangerous. Although he was riding a wild horse, we are informed that the breaking of the bridle was the cause of the accident. We hope he will soon recover from his injuries.

We regret to announce the death of Mr Luke Hamilton, an aged citizen who resided near Storeville in this County, which occurred on the 5th instant from dropsy. He was seventy-six years of age. On Wednesday last his remains were deposited to rest in Varennes churchyard.

A prominent republican of Anderson told the colored people on last Saturday, that the Democratic demonstration meant warthat the same men who were at the head of the war were leading now. We suppose therefore, that it was not a failure this time and hence it will do to call a big thing.

It is more than probable that there will be a new leader for the Anderson Republicans after Saturday next, as we understand that Senator Cochran proposes to decline a re-election as County Chairman. The position is rather expensive, and the thanks of the party for past services not over-abundant. Who is the coming man?

Two months from to-day the great election for President of the United States and Governor of South Carolina comes off. Its result will fix the destiny of this Nation and State for years to come. We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Martha, wife of W. L. Her remains are to be interred by the Double Springs Grange on this morning in the Roberts' Church graveyard at 11 o'clock.

Religious services are announced for Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week in the Baptist Church of the Town. A prayer meeting will also be held in this church this afternoon, in addition to the regular weekly prayer meeting of Friday. A protracted meeting is comtemplated, and the membership of the church, together with the citizens of the town, are earnestly in vited to attend the meetings.

Ex-Gov. Z. B. Vance, of North Carolina, was too closely engaged in his own canvass to accept the invitation to Anderson, although his sympathies are strongly enlisted for the people of South Carolina, and when the opportunity offers he will visit the State before the election. His brilliant campaign at home is almost unprecedented, and we are confident a glorious triumph awaits him in November.

On last Thursday night a storm of rain and wind passed over Anderson. The saw mill portion of Mr. A. H. Osborne's building was blown down, a freight car was blown from the track, and trees were broken off and blown up in different parts of town. One of these fell on one end of the house occupied by Mrs. Keith, but, fortunately, did no serious damage. For a few moments the wind was very severe.

The citizens of Garvin Township organized a rifle club at Bishop's Branch on the 31st day of August last, and elected the following officers: Captain, J. P. Glenn: First Lieutenant, John C. The Republican County Convention meets at this place on Saturday next, 9th inst., for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention. It has been rumored that Gov. the facts as stated to us prove correct. There was a meeting of colored people Mount Sinai Church on last Saturday night we are informed, and it was held in the dark. No one knows the object of this meeting, but it was not likely to be for any good purpose when held under these circumstances. We warn our colored people not to let their leaders induce them to attend such meetings in future, for it will be noon at 2 o'clock. All citizens desirous of sure to bring trouble upon those who are duped into going to them. The white people are sure to find out about them, and they do not intend to afford protection or sistance to any colored man who frequent secret political gatherings. Samuel Johnson, the colored Jury Comnissioner of Anderson County, appointed by Governor Chamberlain at the instance of Senator Cochran, returned his propert for taxation this year, under the regular oath, at $294, real and personal; and for the purpose of bailing James Miles, who is charged with throwing a rock into the Democratic torch-light procession, he made oath before Trial Justice W. S. Brown that he is worth $250 over all homestead exemptions and debts, which makes him worth at least $1,700. These two oaths are totally inconsistent, and it seems to us that this man is a good specimen of republican officials in this State. We invite the attention of the Democratic Executive Committee to these facts.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 29, 1876. DEAR MESSES. EDITORS: "Our remedies oft in ourselves do lie, Which we ascribe to Heaven."

The above old saw commends itself to my eason as one that peculiarly belongs to the present juncture of our political affairs, and one that will find its verification, provided there is a little quiet determination and nerve on our part, supplemented by a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether. You are doubtless thoroughly posted on our local city politics, and have gleaned from our Charleston papers a full account of our most successful torchlight procession, and subsequent monster mass meeting, and as everything passed off so well, exceeding the sanguine expectations of the most enthusiastic, I refrain from entering into particulars, but would call your especial attention to one part of Gen. Ferguson's speech, in which he treated of the thousand transpa rencies, particularly directing attention t one which he thought was worth all the rest. The one referred to bore but the simple inscription, "We mean victory."-

Mark the words, Mr. Editor: "We mean victory." Not that we are going to hope for it or to work for it, but that we mean i to be an absolute fact, beyond doubt. We believe in writing and then doing, for "when our actions do not our fears do make us traitors." Hence, our resolve to do away with the active policy of "inaction," sub stituting therefor a vim and an earnestness that will admit not of the possibility of failure. When we meet a weak-kneed brother we shall talk to him of victory, and man can put to flight one dozen thieves." I say in the words of one of Ward Eights prominent leaders, how much happier are we, for the proportion of honest Democrats hundred to one.

to thieving Republicans is in the ratio of one We are united; enthusiasm is fast laving hold of all of us, and our vote will be cast solidly; but the work before us in gaining over the colored element is great, as instanced by their comparative non-attendance at the mass meeting. If proper allowance though is made for the fear of the Radical party lash, their absence is accounted for. The remedy here lies in a persis tent determination on the part of each of us as individuals—who employ such labor—to bring them over to our views, and by the assurance of absolute protection to their persons, win them away from their less sensible associates, and the fear of punish ment on the part of the Radicals.

One of the strongest arguments to the of us "who are to the manor born," and even those who were of us and yet not us,

"The friends thou hast and their adoption tried, Grapple them to thy soul with bands of steel." On this score Hampton and his ticket need no encomium; by their past we judge them. In this connection I would tell you of a transparency not mentioned in the papers, which, to my eye, was good and to the point:

all Andersonians the fruition of all their hopes, social, political and agricultural, and retaining as I do a lasting regard for my refugee home, I am yours sincerely,

Speech of Hon, Thomas A, Hendricks-A Statesmanlike Review of the Polit-

Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks spoke here to-night. He said he had yielded to his friends and will make this and a few other addresses to the people. He said in a fied with the answer that there was blood recent Speech Gov. Morton said: "In shed at Hamburg that there was a bloody to see that misrepresentation of the mo-tives of Democrats is the purpose and policy of the press and speakers of the Republican party. They charge conduct, attribute motives, and impute sentiments wholly unknown to the parties attacked. Language is attributed which was never used, or so misquoted and garbled as to impart a meaning never intended. A cause must indeed be desperate, when its vindication requires a resort to means so despicable and wicked. In this great Centennial year, he could not reply as he was attacked. What is the truth and was attacked. What is the truth and your duty and aim in respect to the South? I but repeat my letter of acceptance, when I say that all the people must be made to feel and know that once more there is established a purpose and policy under which all citizens, of every conditions and the second in the second tion, race and color, will be secure in the tution and laws declare or recognize, and that he is a dangerous enemy of his coun-try who would arouse or foster section-

As wise men and patriotic citizens, I ask you to judge whether it be right or expedient or humane to continue the men in power who make political gain of scenes of violence and

Mr. Hendricks next touched on the question of reform. He said corruption was found everywhere, unchecked by the men retained in power, and he argued that the remedy therefor was a change of administration. He said, whose fault is it that there has been no reform, but, on the contrary, that the public service has been drifting from bad to worse. It is not fair to charge it altogether upon Gen. Grant. That charge springs from an unworthy motive on the part of a class of Republicans who seek Gov. Hayes' election upon the true ground that he can ac-complish reforms which Gen. Grant could not or would not bring about. Upon this subject Gov. Morton expressed the following opinion in his speech:

"The administration of any President will be in the main what the party which drive out root and branch his "prudential" fears.

Grant, for argument sake, that you of the upper section have the advantage in having less of a majority to overcome, the contrary with us should be an extra stimulant, for "courage mounteth with occasion," and if we, without sacrilege, can deduce an argument from a scriptural adage. "One honest to broken down. In a government of parties like ours, the President must have his choice of officers. The men to whom he owes his election, who have defended him from assaults, to whom he of order, the whole organization becomes deranged, and fever, dyspepsia, sick heads ordinarily control his action, and he will do nothing offensive to them." do nothing offensive to them.

In a large degree that expresses the truth in respect to Gen. Grant's administration. It is what his party has made it, and his party is just what its leaders have made it. Four years ago in my opening address as a candidate for Goragon ernor, I expressed my personal respect for Gen. Grant in the opinion that the people had less cause to apprehend an evil policy from him than from the malign and powerful influence with which he would be surrounded. You all know that the results have more than realized my predictions. Civil Service reform is sneered at, and has ceased to be a Wasteful expenditures have ontinued and official misconduct has become wide-spread and alarming. Sure-ly the President cannot be relieved of the responsibility for so shameful a condition of public affairs, but yet the administration is, in the main, what the party man-agers have made it. Will it be otherwise if the party elects the successor? Gen. Grant had four years of civil experience when he pledged himself and his administration to reform. Even he was not strong enough to achieve success in the midst of the influences which the party and party leaders brought about hi

Mr. Hendricks asked if his audience

laimed that Hayes will more certainly keep his pledges? He argued that re-trenchment and economy could not be expected from the party in power. He reviewed the work of the last session of Congress, saying that the Democratic House reduced appropriations $40,000,000. The Senate resisted some of the reductions, and in order not to impair the Government service, the House was compelled to yield somewhat, the result be ing $30,000,000 reduction. He asked, will you stand by the House, or will you sustain the Senate and administration? Mr. Hendricks said it was clear that the leaders of the party will not allow their party friends to be punished. The ledges of reform were distinctly made at St. Louis, but not in the Cincinnati platform. On the contrary, the Cin-cinnati platform declares the national dministration merits commendation for its honorable work in the management of domestic and foreign affairs. Who will be most likely to abolish the thousands of eless offices? Gov. Tilden will encounter no political em'arrassment in correcting this great evil. Not so with Gov. Hayes. This reform requires thousands of places of profit to be made vacant, now filled by his supporters. He said have you been quite content to hear the House called the Confederate House.

It is true there are many from the South who support the Democratic party. Is that offensive to you? They are chosen by the people, in pursuance of the Constitution. Would you have it otherwise? In what respect have the Southern Democrats in the House offended against the rights or the honor of the who propose to attend the meeting on the 16th at Abbeville, to meet at Anderson Court House on Wednesday, the 13th inst., to make all necessary arrangements?

— As a member of Congress and Governor for five years Haws payed did over the national expenditures thirty millions of dollars! Dealing fairly with this subject, will you not admit that it was liberal, it was honorable on their part, to vote to support the Centennial Exposition, rather than suffer the honor of the country to be tarnished, and our pride humiliated by a failure. After the gance. In one year as Governor of New pride humiliated by a failure. After the York, Samuel J. Tilden has reduced the Congress of 1871 had committed the country to the enterprise, was it not liberal and honorable on their part to vote hitherto an active and leading Republi-can, has written a letter in which he says soldiers of the Federal army? Their own constituents could not share therein and yet they supported the measure. The House has been denounced and declared revolutionary because reform measures were put upon the appropriation bills. He next spoke of Gov. Tilden's reform accomplish what the people so much desire. That fact gave him the nomina; sire. That fact gave him the nomina; tion, and a conviction of the fact on the part of the people will elect thin President. All the corrupt influences of the country are against him. Falsehood and destruction will do their work night, and day, but the people will stand by the champion of their cause.

Regarding the hard times, he said when the laborer of the North asks why he can get no work, he will not be satisfied with the answer that there was blood shed at Hamburg, that there was a blood recent Speech Gov. Morton said: "In such a campaign, with slander as the chief weapon Republicans must be excused if they speak plainly of the political cal character, history and purpose of their antagonists." Hendricks continued: "At the close of that speech there remained no question that the campaign so far as Morton could give it character was correctly described as one of slander. Norman of intelligent observation has tailed to see that misrepresentation of the more remained to see that misrepresents as the dat Hamburg that there was a bloody riot at Newark, N. J., or that a man was driven from his house in Mitchell, Indiana, by a band of armed men and wounded. In such a case as ours the only remedy of the people is in a change. It cannot be worse—it will be better in many respects. Retrenchment in public expenditures will surely relieve the industries of the country of a portion of their burdens, and the adoption of a system of economy and wiser finance will restore better times. When the change has taken place and the people shall have placed in pow-er an administration pledged to radical reform, pledged to a complete restoration reform, pledged to a complete restoration of par value of the currency without artificial contraction; by public economy; by official retrenchment, and wise finance; and pledged also to administrative policies and measures for the benefit of all the people, and not for the benefit of a class or party hose will revive and con-
